01

Summary

FORT is moving its customer documentation and support to new sites. FORT Manager Desktop App 1.6.22 and Web App 2.7.25 replace links to the previous Customer Support Portal with links to the new FORT documentation portal and to email support. The Dashboard, the Firmware page, and the Support menu in the left navigation are updated. Device firmware is unchanged.

WHAT'S NEW

- ✓ A Support menu with Email Support and Documentation.
- ✓ An Open Documentation button on the Firmware page.
- ✓ A simpler Dashboard with a full-width Devices Configured panel.

02

Highlights and Safety Updates

Support menu

Click Support in the left navigation to open a menu with two options. Email Support opens a new email to support@fortrobotics.com in your email app. Documentation opens the FORT documentation portal in a new browser tab.

Firmware page help

The Need help with something? message now points you to the FORT documentation first, then to support@fortrobotics.com. When you email support, include your device model, serial number, and firmware version. The Learn More button is now Open Documentation and opens the documentation portal.

Simpler Dashboard

The Quick Links panel has been removed from the Dashboard. The Devices Configured panel now uses the full width of the page.
